35	In my backyard deer have been aggressive with my dogs	5/2/2019 1:19 PM
36	I see family of deer every day walking my dog. We try to cross the street, so that they are not startled into oncoming traffic on Green, Belvoir, etc. But that gets labor intensive, with soggy landscape, traffic, dusk, etc. I have set a fog horn blast on my phone and play it once in a while, as a preventative. I did have a very antsy mom of three adolescents get prickly as I crossed to walk down my street. My dog is very interested in them, but we are working on her reactivity on many fronts. I love having deer around though I am frustrated. I fear greatly for their safety as it seems traffic moves like a speedway and seems to go unchecked on my street (a cut through) and the boulevards. Distracted and aggressive driving is very upsetting.	5/2/2019 10:47 AM

83	Deer walked into my yard, where the dog was quietly tied up and attempted to kill him by tearing up and dashing him to pieces. I watched it happen from my kitchen. I ran out and yelled but it only took a few steps. Throwing things was ineffective. It occurred two more times over same weekend, each time I watched it happen with no provocation from my dog. When I called animal control, the rude and ineffective animal warden told me there was nothing to be done. I asked what it would take to remove the deer in question and he said it had to hurt someone. So it had to hurt one of my kids to be removed. Which is ridiculous, if it's harming any living thing we should remove it before it has a chance to harm a human. (On a side note, my other interactions with warden have shown him to be incapable.).	4/29/2019 5:10 AM

3	Your survey only offered limited solutions. There has to be other options beside killing deer and sterilization, which has the effect of endangering the deer population. We continue to deforest and take away natural habitat so deer have no other recourse than to move into neighborhoods. Think a little more deeply and less entitlement. 13	DO NOT KILL DEER. That is unacceptable. Just wanted to reiterate. Thanks!	6/5/2019 12:52 PM
14	Deer have been living here in South Euclid, and many other cities for a very long time. The only reason why people don't like deers are because some people never grew up with animals, aren't good drivers, and think every animal is dangerous. Yet humans are the ones killing. The deer population is definitely going to go down because us humans are irresponsible, so deer are not the problem. We are.	6/5/2019 8:35 AM
15	Please, do not use violence to cull these deer. The message it sends within our city, as well as out, is incredibly dark and negative.	5/31/2019 5:38 PM
16	male are the most important when trying to control population. They must be removed and let lose in a farmland, or put to rest. There are too many female.	5/31/2019 4:03 PM
17	Hi, sorry but I live in Lyndhurst (next door) but the deer problem around Mayfield and Richmond Rds. is very bad. Nothing is being done and the deer are having babies and everything is getting worse. Lyme's disease is a real threat and someone is going to be very, very sick..	5/31/2019 8:09 AM
18	I think they are beautiful, we are the ones to blame for this over population due to our over-construction. We take their homes away, and now we want to kill them for it? Doesn't make sense, so unethical. We need to either learn to co-exist, or use a non-lethal solution. Otherwise, it's barbaric.	5/31/2019 3:52 AM
19	Lethal deer methods should not be used!! Not only is it inhumane, but has shown to be ineffective. Please don't allow SE to become "one of those cities"! Like Lyndhurst, Shaker and the like...would be humiliating and horrible. The deer are fine!! I've seen no problems coexisting with them.	5/31/2019 3:36 AM

22	This is a tough one and I do not envy you. I wish I could have selected more than 1 answer for #32, because I do worry about safety if marksmen are allowed to hunt on public land. Selective sterilizing of deer could have an impact on the genetic diversity of these animals, limiting it and perhaps paving the way for maladaptive mutations or problems caused by too much inbreeding. It seems that the deer issue relates to deeper problems related to our society's use of land and human overpopulation. A related area of concern for me is that as the deer population has increased, so has the coyote population - I can sometimes hear them at night attacking animals, howling, etc. Neighborhood pets are definitely at more danger because of this. Good luck and thanks for asking for input.	5/20/2019 10:50 AM
23	Could the deer be knocked out and then transported to a more appropriate location? I	5/16/2019 5:05 AM
24	Part of the issue with the deer is that we keep building in areas where they can roam freely. The 'new' housing on Anderson is a perfect example of this. So even with the use of contraceptions, tell me where the deer are supposed to go?	5/16/2019 4:42 AM
25	As an individual with much familiarity with deer and their behavior, I would like to note that the overall health of the deer population is paramount to the safety of residents and motorists. Being animals of prey, a healthy deer is non-aggressive, and plays an important part in the local ecosystem. A sick and hungry deer can't avoid cars well, and they are more likely to act defensively. Please take more into consideration the overall health, as well as the size of the population.	5/15/2019 5:04 AM
26	Deer appear frequently in my neighborhood and often can be found in the middle of the roads	5/15/2019 1:36 AM
27	Cull with lethal methods	5/14/2019 7:06 PM
28	Anything. You do to get rid of them would be appreciated	5/14/2019 6:25 PM
29	A deer attacked my son and daughter-in-law's dog even though the dog did nothing to provoke the deer. A deer caused considerable damage to my car when the deer ran into it on Cedar Rd. The deer damaged my trees, grass and plants on a daily basis. Not sure of the best way to manage the problem.	5/14/2019 6:16 PM
30	Allowing residents to build fences high enough to keep deer out (9 ft) could help, but culling would be the most effective.	5/14/2019 5:23 PM
31	I love seeing the deer but I know that overpopulation is a problem for their welfare as well as humans. If we can use non-lethal methods and people STOP feeding them I think the city could get them in balance.	5/14/2019 5:21 PM
32	The State of Ohio has got to be more involved with this issue, both with resources and money for all communities facing this. They are the major government force that has encouraged SPRAWL throughout the state and has created this problem of eliminating proper habitat for the deer and other wildlife. They should be the main financier and programmatic entity that comes up with appropriate and humane solutions. I'm not going to hold my breath however, because the current Republican stranglehold over this State's government branches are pro-sprawl development, anti-environment, pro-highways and cars, anti-public transportation, pro-pollution, shall I go on.? Hopefully the potential court-ordered redrawing of districts will stop this insanity.	5/14/2019 4:55 PM
33	Study the population and see what the best solution could be to keep them from coming into residential areas. Thank you	5/14/2019 8:24 AM
34	They are dirty, dangerous and destructive. There has been a confirmed case of Lyme disease in Euclid.	5/14/2019 7:52 AM
35	The City needs to act as the situation is intolerable. If not, the City's housing stock will continue to deteriorate leaving citizens little choice other than building fences and/or providing one more legitimate reason to move out of SE	5/14/2019 7:13 AM
36	A cheap partial solution would be to allow fences to be built that were tall enough to keep deer out. An amendment to our ordinances would be a solution for some.	5/14/2019 5:41 AM
37	Please stress to the citizens that deer should not be fed by people. The deer have become less fearful of people. Deer approach people and walk into yards expecting to be fed. I spent most of my life in the rural country, living on many acres of land. Deer should not act as though we are visiting a petting zoo.	5/13/2019 4:49 PM

38	I have nothing against deer personally, however the overpopulation is dangerous for drivers and the deer themselves. They are also causing a negative impact on the ecosystem and it will only get worse unless we act now in a humane way. Also, marksmen could miss their target especially in very populated areas such as South Euclid, Lyndhurst.	5/13/2019 4:35 PM
39	I care deeply that our city DO something to control the expanding population. I have been here just at the time that just as each new development project was completed - Legacy, expansion of the Greenview, Oakwood -the problem has gotten worse. We allow for these projects to go forward but make no developer responsible for the mess the leave behind. Yes, even the expansion of the school resulted in them tearing down portions of the woods, leaving my backyard in tact, one of the few places left for the deer to go but destroying my property at the same time. Thank you for addressing this issue.	5/13/2019 4:19 PM

41	They are beautiful, but a nuisance to my plants and grass. That is the only area I am concerned about. Also, if they are eliminated, perhaps the meat should be prepared and sold, or given to charity. It is good tasting and nutritious.	5/13/2019 12:26 PM
42	I'd rather a non lethal means vs. people (vigilantes) taking it on themselves.	5/13/2019 12:20 PM
43	The problem didn't exist even a decade ago, so it has progressed rapidly. Please do something before only drastic measures will help.	5/11/2019 2:57 AM
44	We have driven deer out of their natural habitat, so now they have moved into ours. Quite a problem when walking dogs. Quite a problem when trying to maintain property beautifully. Quite frightening when driving, especially at night! They also carry ticks. When a new baby is in my back yard, I am fearful of walking back there to get to my car or to get to trash bins in garage. I don't dislike deer - but it feels as if they've taken over the community!!	5/9/2019 10:51 AM
45	Humans are more destructive than deer. Please leave the deer alone. People should just put fences up if they're this concerned about the deer population. We have a park in our community, what do they expect. Don't live near a park or wooded area.	5/7/2019 4:41 AM
46	We had a deer attack our dog last summer. Very often when I am working in the yard the deer refuse to move as they become more comfortable with the surroundings. They lay in our tree beds in our yard and in our back bushes. They tear up our yard and they a a nuisance. Something needs to be done immediately.	5/6/2019 3:55 PM

52	I moved from South Euclid to Lyndhurst in 1964. I strongly believe that each city should maintain several refuge areas for deer and wild life. The deer have no where to go and are stressed due to building development. When construction is undertaken, large areas of forest for the deer should carry strong consideration as to where they may take refuge. Also, provision for areas of water and salt licks should also be planned. There is an ongoing shortage of land area for deer to roam.	5/4/2019 3:33 AM

If there is any other city that is thinking of any other method or fully stopping the deer population within a generation or so we should absolutely become involved and look into it... I know from discussions on next-door many, many people cherish the deer here; people who don't prepare their gardens for the natural elements that are still around which been here way before us , just aren't taking the proper steps to maintain a garden. 92	Please institute laws about feeding the deer. My neighbor routinely puts her old vegetables out on the border of her property line with my house resulting in an overwhelming amount of overly desensitized deer in my yard. I can't grow grass that doesn't get trampled and I worry that it's driving down my property value.	4/29/2019 11:50 AM
93	Stop tearing land to build a new shopping center. Learn to repurpose abandoned buildings.	4/29/2019 11:48 AM
94	My neighbor feeds them. This is cruel and very shortsighted. Educate the public. Tear down WalMart and Legacy Village so they can return to their natural habitat. Didn't have a problem until all those woods were destroyed. I don't blame the deer, I blame us, but we need to do something. I have seen deer with one horn and other birth abnormalities. Every year we see at least 3 come through in horrible pain with broken legs. People feed them and they start coming right up to you when you talk to them, even to yell go away! Better hope Lyme disease doesn't become a problem.	4/29/2019 11:34 AM
95	I consider lethal methods to be acceptable only if they are used for food.	4/29/2019 11:04 AM
96	I can't believe Lethal option is even being considered. We need to evolve as a specie and not be so inhumane.	4/29/2019 10:56 AM
97	My family very much enjoy the deer in our neighborhood. They eat some of our plants but we don't mind. I've lived in South Euclid for 17 years and haven't seen an increase in the deer population in my area. It seems pretty consistent over the years. I am very opposed to lethal control programs but would need more information about non-lethal methods to make an informed decision on the best non-lethal avenue to pursue. The deer continue to lose natural habitats because of development and we shouldn't be killing them because they eat our birdseed or plants. Using lethal methods, particularly bow hunting, is dangerous to people and cruel to the deer.	4/29/2019 10:21 AM
98	They are a part of life here.	4/29/2019 10:09 AM
99	I live in CH, have 44121 zip. Rosemond. Should share ideas with other cities where deer control has been successful.	4/29/2019 10:09 AM
100	they're beautiful, but need management. Educating the public about deer overcrowding is important in order to get people's support.	4/29/2019 9:46 AM
101	Put them in a truck and drive them out somewhere where there is plenty of food and space.	4/29/2019 9:46 AM
102	I don't think the deer population is a huge issue. They have never been aggressive or even bothered by my presence when I encounter them. They lounge in my backyard and I'm fine with it. Maybe if I had children I would be more concerned. If absolutely necessary, I think non lethal methods are the best, but I don't think we should be worried about it at this moment in time. We've taken over their habitat. It's not fair to kill them off because they're in our way. We should learn to coexist.	4/29/2019 9:44 AM
103	We share our South Euclid ecosystem with other animals and organisms who contribute to the ecological balance in the ecosystem. Hence we home owners are responsible for maintaining our own properties in sustainable ways to contribute to this balance. That means that we recognize possible undesirable interactions of animals visiting our properties and plan what we plant and plan how to protect our plantings with barriers or other non-lethal methods.	4/29/2019 9:33 AM
104	It's a problem and needs to be addressed very soon. Please stop building new shopping plazas for little city revenue. It's not worth it. We are taking away from their habitat and then wonder why they are in our yard. Please come up with more green space where they can be relocated. Maybe even feed to homeless. At this point I'm over the deer. They have become a nuisance and need to be addressed	4/29/2019 9:33 AM
105	I have heard that non-lethal injections are expensive and difficult to do. I would rather that we cull the herds and give the meat to the food bank.	4/29/2019 9:21 AM

South Euclid Deer Management Citizen Survey

106	1) All citizens should be informed that feeding deer is ILLEGAL - and this should be enforced. 2) People often make decisions based on emotional and aesthetic considerations. Deer are perceived as beautiful, so we feel sympathy for them. If they looked like, for example, rats, there would be no hesitation to use any methods necessary to cull their numbers. 3) Because deer have no natural predators, their population has increased beyond our area's capacity for them. I don't propose returning wolves to our area, but something has to be done to return balance - preferably non-lethal, but we should not rule out lethal means if necessary. However, I would strongly object to the trap & bolt method used in Lyndhurst. 4) I grew up in South Euclid and Lyndhurst during the 1970s-1980s. I don't recall ever seeing a deer - not once. Now, it's almost a daily occurrence. We can no longer deny this is a problem which will only grow worse.	4/29/2019 9:06 AM

113	The problem with disease related to the ticks is serious • The first signs and symptoms of Lyme disease are similar to the flu so it is not the first problem considered by a medical practitioner • Untreated, Lyme disease can spread to other parts of your body for several months to years after infection • In addition to Lyme disease, additional bacteria may be carried by the ticks • If kicked by a deer (frequently Does guarding the fawn) severe infection can occur to a person or pet. • Guarding against the ticks is more that just spraying on "Off"	4/29/2019 7:41 AM
114	The deer were here first. We took their land. I enjoy the deer.	4/29/2019 7:37 AM
115	I had a deer try to jump through my patio sliding glass door, twice on the same occasion, at a full gallop. Thankfully, he jumo into the side of the door with the screen door, which absorbed most of the impact. I had to replace the screen in the door. If the deer jumped into the side with just a glass, there would have been a major problem...alarm going off and the deer destroying my residence. If i would have been home at the time, I may have been injured, scared to death, or had to shoot the deer in self defense.	4/29/2019 7:23 AM

119	In general, the deer do not bother me. My only concern is that they have definitely increased in the last couple years. We used to have 1-2 deer in our yard and now there is a pack of 8-10 coming from Euclid Creek. Car accidents on Green due to the deer may increase.	4/29/2019 7:12 AM

121	As a long term resident, I can honestly say that the deer population has become worse over the last few years. Yesterday, when I came home, there were 10 deer on my front lawn. There were other deer at nearby neighbors houses. There is no natural way to cull the population, it is now time to take action. The deer have damaged countless plants and lawns, yet I do think there is not enough vegetation to provide a healthy diet for the deer in the winter due to the number of deer. Thank you for listening and taking this survey. Please take action.	4/29/2019 6:55 AM

123	I am for any management that is enacted in an effort to maintain populations within healthy and sustainable levels. If the issue is that the deer populations are growing beyond their natural capacities, then yes I support management efforts. However, I also acknowledge that the deer populations need to co-exist among us, given our location. I don't like the idea of managing deer simply because they are creating a natural inconvenience by eating my tulips. Anyways, good luck. I'm sure this is going to shake the wackos from both sides out of the woodwork.	4/29/2019 6:27 AM

It no longer pays to invest money in taking care of my yard and landscaping only to have it destroyed. 135	Deer are part of nature and nature should be left alone. They do not need to be "managed" if they eat other parts of nature, that is the natural course of things. It is people who need to be educated and better understand behavior of deer and how to respect them. If people are that concerned, they should place their concern at the source of destruction of green spaces where the deer lived peacefully until being forced out.	4/28/2019 11:03 PM
136	I strongly feel that we are responsible for the deer population (along with other animals/critters) being in South Euclid because of those that voted for the Wal-Mart. That green space being cleared and built on was our doing and we disturbed these animals habitats. So what did we expect? I think it would be vile if we then use lethal methods to fix the problem we caused! However, using non-lethal methods would at least make it so that the current population that calls South Euclid home would not multiply.	4/28/2019 10:15 PM

187	Deer culling can be done safely with the cooperation of residents and the NEO Sewer district, Cuyahoga Soil and water conservation district and the cities involved, using the Euclid creek River bed as a staging area. Deer stands can be set up in the large wooded areas along the creek in the back yards of cooperating residents and parks. These deer stand areas can be baited. When the hunt is scheduled the bow hunters located in these stands can shoot down on the deer coming to the water to drink or to eat in the baited area. Bows are quiet and less alarming to the citizens. The deer can then be remove through the yards of the cooperating citizens or through the park. The deer meat can be offered for sale or as a donation to the food bank. The meat will need processing by approved processors.. I was wondering if the new Edwin's butchering school could find a location to learn how to process game meat as they may not be allowed to use their current site. This culling program is not a "deer hunt".. this program is about pest removal. Just as we remove nuisance ground hogs, skunks and raccoons. It would be great if communities would cooperate. The Sewer district is responsible for the creek bed I suggest their involvement because they are not elected and thus not subject to winning the vote of citizens. I love deer.. and currently our herd is fairly healthy but with continued population growth that may change. Selective killing of the "right deer" is the best way to maintain a healthy herd. Please do not make your decision based on "popular vote" use science and biology. Think about how much money is spent on preventing deer from eat plants, how many trees and plants are lost to deer and the cost of erosion along our creek beds. etc... 222	Thank you for addressing this	4/28/2019 10:04 AM
223	I strongly believe that if there wasn't so much of the deers natural space being torn down for building, this would be a non issue. We as people invaded their area. Oakwood commons is a prime example.	4/28/2019 10:03 AM
224	Do something!	4/28/2019 10:03 AM
225	Cull	4/28/2019 10:02 AM
226	I think we have bigger problems than the deer such as crime and declining property values. Spend the money on something else.	4/28/2019 10:01 AM
227	Round them up and take them somewhere else.	4/28/2019 10:01 AM
228	You should let hunters be able to harvest if you take deer lethal, like mentor. Also if the deer are taken to control residents should have the opportunity to harvest the meat for food or donation with a valid tag from ODNR.	4/28/2019 10:01 AM
229	I would be consenting to an experienced hunter culling deer on my property.	4/28/2019 10:01 AM
230	Have you considered capture and transport away from South Euclid to larger wooded areas like Cuyahoga National Park?	4/28/2019 9:56 AM

232	Thank you for asking. Great survey.	4/28/2019 9:53 AM
233	None	4/28/2019 9:53 AM
234	I'm glad to see the City exploring options by polling the residents.	4/26/2019 1:57 AM
235	Last 5 yr increase in activity. Sleep in my yard 3-5 nights a week. Same deer family. 6ft metal fence only way to protect veggie garden. Shaker and Beachwood cooperated on a study a few yrs ago and have a task force of citizens and culling each winter.	4/25/2019 10:22 AM
